Here's draft language for the certificate. I'm cc'ing one of his team members at USC, Jen Ito, for some quick edits describing his work. . .

Dr. Manuel Pastor is one of the most renowned practitioners of participatory and action oriented research in his field. His research on political, social and economic conditions involves people as active subjects and empowers advocates who seek to advance the social justice movements around the world. The City of Los Angeles celebrates one bad brother, Manuel Pastor, on his 60th birthday!
